

Introduction/ Business Problem

- So in Seattle, a huge car accident has occurred on a highway. It creates a major traffic jam. Cars are in line while police cars have surrounded the accident site and begins to shut down the highway. There is also an accident and there's a helicopter transporting the ones involved in the crash to the nearest hospital. Lives are at stake from this incident. Now, wouldn't it be great if there is something in place that could warn you, given the weather and the road conditions about the possibility of you getting into a car accident and how severe it would be, so that you would drive more carefully or even change your travel if you are able to.
